TOLEDO'S VALUABLE ASSET

There are several reasons why Toledo has such a distinguished and valuable asset in its Museum. One is that there are over 6,500 people like yourselves—all Museum Members—who have, through their contributions, afforded not only their children, but all the children in the community a learning opportunity that exists nowhere else in the world.

Lest we forget, the Toledo Museum was the world pioneer in providing free children's classes in art—drawing, painting, music, sculpture. It remains the leader in numbers enrolled and one of the very few today that continues to provide free courses. The spirit of giving that supports these programs has been passed down from generation to generation. It must be maintained and broadened to meet expanding needs: more children—increased costs.

Many of you make another valuable contribution—your time and talents. The Art Museum Aides, the Docents, the Friends, members of the Endowment Development and Performing Arts Committees, and the Trustees as well, give generously of their time so that the Museum, which otherwise would be limited by funds, is not restricted in providing courses that are available to everyone for the benefit of everyone in the community.

Hopefully, those children who use the Museum many decades from now will have as enriching an opportunity as was passed on to us.

*Harold Boeschstein
President*

Through these columns came more than 425,000 people visiting the Museum last year.

The joy of creating is learned early at the Art Museum.

Your Museum Reports . . .

70 YEARS OF SERVICE

The Museum celebrates its 70th anniversary this year.

Despite the problems which beset this and most other charitable non-profit institutions these days there has never been a more widespread, and therefore healthy, community awareness of Museum values and Museum needs. More Toledoans than ever before are supporting with interest and enthusiasm, with time and with money, the Museum's public programs in art and music.

Support through donations of funds and time has permitted Toledo's Museum to grow and to serve the community. Museum membership has increased to approximately 6,500. Public acceptance of the Museum's programs as evidenced by attendance and student enrollment measures Museum effectiveness in serving you. However, increasing operating costs will limit future services unless public support is expanded.

The Museum has maintained an impressive annual attendance figure which has averaged over 425,000 for the past few years. More than 77 percent of Museum visitors came for some scheduled event, an art or music class, a special exhibition, a concert, lecture, or similar event.

EDUCATION

In the area of educational programs, the statistical indicators are equally impressive. More than 3,500 adults and University of Toledo students are enrolled in art courses. Approximately 2,500 children participate in the free Saturday art and music classes.

While attendance at the Museum's adult programs has increased substantially, it is noteworthy that participation in the Museum's daily free correlation programs for children in the galleries has grown even more so. Last year, more than 22,000 area school children experienced the wonders of art and music in special correlation lectures and through guided tours, all at no cost to the taxpayers.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS

For the past eighteen months, your Museum has been involved in an accelerated program of capital improvements with new gallery construction and renovation of existing galleries. This began with the opening of the French Room, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin S. Kobacker, and was followed by the magnificent Art In Glass Gallery, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boeschenstein.

Moving the glass collection freed gallery space in the east wing. This gave the opportunity to refurbish all the galleries in the Museum's east wing with new wall covering and lighting, and to reinstall over 70 percent of the Museum's art collections. The galleries are now chronologically and geographically arranged to show an organized flow of history. The Museum's important collection of American art was separated from the European paintings and is exhibited in its own area. Most recently a new Gallery of Oriental Art has been established to show selected examples of art of the ancient East.

Many other improvements which will make the Museum even more available and attractive await implementation. Funds must be found before these improvements can be undertaken.

NEED FOR FUNDS

Expansion of gallery space with necessary increase in maintenance, security, heating and lighting costs, and expansion of community services as well as the universal effects of inflation, have caused Museum operating expenses to spiral sharply upward. Last year, for example, your Museum spent approximately $1,350,000 to operate its art and music programs and to maintain the building, an increase of 10 percent over the previous year. This amount is exclusive of funds for acquisition of art, which are obtained from special sources specifically designated for this purpose.

Your Museum needs additional funds to meet rising operational costs. Museum membership is vital. Also necessary is greater participation in the President's Council—a group of contributors who donate $500 or more annually to the Endowment Fund. It is from these tax-deductible gifts that the Museum will be able to meet the demands placed upon it by tomorrow's public.

It is encouraging to report that membership in the President's Council has increased from 82 in 1969 when it was first established to more than 140 currently. This growth is especially significant and reflects support of the Museum's active programs of education, exhibitions, renovation and expansion. While many museums received some or all operating funds from public tax sources, The Toledo Museum of Art receives no such funds. It is a community institution supported primarily by public contributions from industry and individuals.

The Art Museum Friends are our newest group of volunteers. A Friend has secured five or more new members during any one year, and continues to be a Friend by securing three new members in succeeding years. The Friends serve as Museum hostesses for exhibition openings and other special events, and some Friends have joined to form a new Performing Arts Women's Committee.

Your Museum is a community institution. Without Members, without the President's Council, without Docents, Aides and Friends, it could not continue to serve Toledoans and all others who find pleasure, solace, knowledge and beauty in this great and loved institution now in its 70th year.

It's your Museum—use it and support it. In the pages that follow you will find the names of thousands who have helped their Museum to continue to grow.

Will the Museum continue to grow and to serve or will it be forced to curtail its educational programs and its services because of static or receding income? The decision really rests with the community.

Otto Wittmann
Director

VOLUNTEERS

In speaking of contributions, the Museum is proud that so many individuals also have given of their time, an important supplement to the talented professional staff.

Three volunteer groups serve their community through the Museum; the Museum Docents, the Art Museum Aides and the Art Museum Friends. These effective groups perform services which augment those performed by the staff, and which could not otherwise be provided.

The Docents, now in their 22nd year, undergo intensive training in art history and music appreciation so they may teach the thousands of school children who visit the Museum annually and who otherwise might be deprived of the enriching experience found here.

The Art Museum Aides conduct the annual Membership Drive, and also serve as hostesses for Members' receptions. They operate and staff the new Collectors Corner, a sales and rental gallery offering works by leading area artists. The Aides also help to keep the Museum looking its best by maintaining plants throughout the galleries.

VOLUNTEERS FOR THE MUSEUM

Volunteer services complement the work of our professional staff. Without volunteer assistance the Museum could not continue its present leadership in cultural development for this area. The Museum has three significant and dedicated volunteer women's groups:

Art Museum Aides
Art Museum Docents
Art Museum Friends

The Art Museum Aides plan and direct the Museum's Annual Membership Drive. Membership is important not only because of the income received, but because it is the best basic evidence we have of broad, concerned community support. Last year the Aides initiated a new Museum enterprise, the Collectors Corner, where art produced in this region can be rented or purchased. It is a grand service to anyone wishing to buy or rent art—and to the Toledo area artists involved. The Aides also assume responsibility for the lovely green plants throughout the Museum.

The Art Museum Docents undergo very careful training by the Museum's professional staff and then instruct thousands of school children who visit the Museum's collections to learn about art and music through talks carefully coordinated with their schoolroom studies.

The Art Museum Friends are our newest group of volunteers. A Friend has secured five or more new members during any one year, and continues to be a Friend by securing three new members in succeeding years. The Friends serve as Museum hostesses for exhibition openings and other special events, and some Friends have joined to form a new Performing Arts Women's Committee.

These three groups of volunteers—so important to the Museum—are listed on the following pages.

Every year over 500 volunteers work on the Museum's annual Membership Drive.

Collectors Corner, where art by Toledo area artists can be rented or purchased, is a new activity of the Art Museum Aides.

MUSEUM MEMBERSHIP

The Toledo Museum of Art Membership this past year numbered more than 6,500 families and brought in income of $106,000, approximately 8% of the Museum's 1970 total income.

In the past year, a member of the Museum could have attended films, lectures, concerts, openings, the Christmas party—a total of over 100 events that were either free to all members or were available at a sizable discount. In addition, a member could have attended adult art and music classes and would have received a tuition discount. A member also could have rented a picture from the new Collectors Corner or could have used the Museum's fine Library. All members received the monthly Calendar and the Museum News.

All membership funds helped to support the free educational programs for children—a really worthwhile cause. This has been a keystone of the Museum policy since the inception of these free children's educational programs in 1903.

The Toledo Museum of Art is the center of cultural activity in this area, and satisfies the needs of many people in many ways.

All of our memberships are family memberships. For as little as $15.00 a year, you are Active Members. Many of our members, knowing of our need for additional support, have chosen to be members in higher categories. These categories are:

Contributing Member	$ 25.00
Sustaining Member	50.00
Supporting Member	100.00

This coming year there will be more special events for members, as well as splendid exhibitions to enrich the 1971-72 season for you.

It is with pride and a great deal of appreciation that we list all of the members of The Toledo Museum of Art as of July 31, 1971 on the following pages.

Museum membership helps support free art and music education for children. Approximately 2,500 children register each year for Saturday classes.

"The Toledo Museum of Art is the greatest single asset this community possesses . . . the unquestioned cultural center not only for Toledo but for a large section of northwestern Ohio and southeastern Michigan . . . The variety and scope of its educational program (is) unmatched by any other great museum in the world."

"... unlike most major museums, not a penny of support has come from taxes at any level of government... Toledo's Museum has accomplished this near-miracle because, literally, thousands of Toledoans love it and their community... any anniversary salute to The Toledo Museum of Art is essentially a grateful acknowledgement to the many, many people who are more its pillars than the classic columns which grace its entrance."
